My name is Jordan Heuglin. I have three younger siblings. Currently, I am a Team Sales Representative at Soccer Premier and am also an Exercise Science major, psychology minor at Bellarmine University.

Having a multitude of playing experience at high levels of play, I have not only developed a strong competitive attitude, but also exceptional passion for the game of soccer. Using my playing experience and knowledge, I hope to have a positive impact on my players and drive them to better themselves as both players and as people. Through instilling the value of hard work, demonstrating proper technique, and building a high “soccer IQ,” I am confident that I can build players that are successful both individually and as a team, while maintaining comfortable and personable learning environment.
